

Lonnie White

Lonnie White, a five-time national award-winning sportswriter, is a featured writer/columnist for AOL's Fanhouse and Versus.com, and the author of the book, "UCLA vs. USC: 75 Years of the Greatest Rivalry in Sports". White, who currently co-teaches a course at USC on Sports Commentary, graduated from the University of Southern California with a Broadcast Journalism degree in 1986 and worked for the Los Angeles Times from 1987 to 2008. White, who also spent one season in the NFL playing for the New Orleans Saints, attended USC on a football scholarship and played for the Trojans from 1982-86, which included appearances in the Rose, Aloha, Citrus and Mirage Bowls. In 1986, White established a USC single-season school record for kickoff return yards, a record that still currently stands as of 2009.
